Alineo Studio

To keep your garments looking as good as new, we recommend following these care and washing instructions:

1. Wash protection:

Our pieces are made with high-quality, durable lycra. To extend their lifespan, we recommend washing them inside a mesh laundry bag (like the ones used for underwear), which you can easily find at any home goods store. This helps prevent damage during the wash cycle. If you are going to clean garments with the same print, each piece should be placed in an individual bag (do not put multiple garments in the same bag).

2. Avoid fabric softener:

Fabric softeners can weaken fibers and reduce the garment's durability. We recommend not using them.

3. Hand-dyed prints:

If your garment features hand-dyed prints, it's best to wash it by hand. You may also machine wash it on a delicate cycle, but always wash it separately, as the dye could stain other items.

4. Odor removal:

To eliminate odors, including sweat, use a bleach-free fabric disinfectant , that completely neutralizes smells without damaging the fabric.

5. Ironing with care:

Our garments wrinkle very little. If ironing is necessary, use steam without touching the fabric directly, and always at a low temperature. If the garments have rhinestones, it's best not to iron the areas where they are to prevent them from coming off.

6. Stain treatment:

For stains like makeup, sweat, or oil, apply KH7 before washing. It helps remove stains effectively without harming the material.

7. Delicate wash cycle:

Always use a delicate program with low spin speed. Even if the garment comes out damp, hanging it on a hanger will allow it to dry quickly and maintain its shape. The garments can be dry-cleaned, but always take care not to rub the fabric too hard to avoid damaging it.

8. Tulle garments:

Tulle is a delicate fabric. Avoid sharp objects near the garment to prevent snags or holes. When putting it on, be gentle to avoid stretching the seams and to preserve the original shape of the piece.

By following these instructions, your Alineo garment will last for a long time if you treat it with care. You'll also be supporting emerging design and helping extend the lifecycle of garments, reducing fashion's impact on the environment.